Hi Raina,

John may have to submit a new approach permit for this one as it may be looked at as a change of use. I am not sure if his current approaches there are in his name either so it might be good for him to update anyway. I think he currently has heavy equipment in and out of the property so the approach size may be adequate for what he is doing, but I would like to see what he has planned if possible.

Thanks,

Harry
